Global Colon Cancer Association

The GCCA Mission

The Global Colon Cancer Association is the voice for the millions of colon cancer (CRC) patients worldwide. We advocate for patient centered policy around the globe to ensure increased awareness and screening, access to quality medical treatments and help our member organizations collaborate, innovate and leverage the full potential of effectuating change. The GCCA also supports the creation of new patient advocacy groups in developing areas which have no CRC organizations. The GCCA unites all stakeholders in the battle against this disease with one unified voice.

Sharing Learning Growing

The goal of the GCCA is to create a platform through which all colorectal cancer patient advocacy groups across the globe can unite and create a powerful voice in their battle awareness of the importance of policy change, educate patients and leaders and support research.

The cover features a large blue banner at the top with the text "The Bid Committee of Philadelphia 2002 Olympic Bid Committee" and "Washington Services • October 1, 2002". Below the banner is a black and white photograph of a group of people, likely members of the committee, standing together. The background is a textured blue.
